S. THE FRUIT SEASON

As well to look ahead, and in peering into the vast immediate future, we see fruit in tons awaiting the ripening process. Both for private consumption and for industrial enterprises, there is a large demand for preserves, and if the growers and others connected with the industry could only wake up to its great importance and its possibilities for expansion, the business done might be much greater.

influence of the spirit of compromise which the general desire to pass the bill brought into play. The bill now before Parliament will hardly pass unless a fair spirit of compromise again prevail. Its chances will be the greater in proportion to the number of members who look upon the State as a common interest of the community, and who attempt that may be made by the advocates of a single section or class, or group of classes, with a common interest, to regulate the management and disposal of the national domain for their own special advantage.

Let us consider this proposal of the country party to abolish the payment of interest on conditional purchases. Last year the sum received as interest on land conditionally purchased was £1,000,000, and the sum paid as interest £1,000,000. In addition to that there was the proportion of interest included in the annual payments by conditional purchasers under the new law, undistinguishable in the returns from the instalments of the purchase money of the land sold and mixed. These annual payments amounted last year to £781,000, and the proportion of the sum made up by interest was not to be despised. But this interest is now charged upon the unpaid balance of the purchase money by the community as a whole, and the land is sold to the owner of the land again at the same price bought it upon terms. The claim is a fair one, made familiar to us by the practice set up by sellers and buyers of private lands on every hand. The practice is not altogether followed by private sellers or by private buyers, but it is not exorbitant; it is about the same as the State has to pay its creditors upon its loans. It seems easy for a member of the Assembly to say "we cared nothing about interest, he looked upon such a sum as a mere trifle, and he would give up its right to interest, it had a right to do so, and there could be no question of repudiation." But the immorality seen by other people, and the question of repudiation comes in, when the State has to pay its creditors, and to pay interest, and have obtained concessions in return for the undertaking to agitate for the "abolition" of this part of their contract, and send representatives into Parliament for the purpose of obtaining a reduction of the interest. The State has the right to forego the charge of interest, but it is to be remembered that the question of foregoing it is not one for the debtors, but is one for the creditor to determine. The money is due to the creditor, and he, and which a party representing the creditor, and not the debtor, is dealing with this question, a country party, the most part representing State debtors, cannot rightly claim to hold a corresponding position if it is organised for the purpose, amongst others, of exercising the power of foreclosing the creditor against the payment of their just debts.

We hear sometimes the cry of "it is a question against the town." Some of those who have clamoured for "one man one vote" have preached the doctrine that if a man is a member of the town, there should be two or more in the country. Such an arrangement would facilitate the carrying through of proposals like that referred to. But in the treatment of the question it is not the town, but the man as well as the wrong it electors who, while paying their full share of taxation, do not stand towards the State in the relation of debtors were overruled by the State debtors in the determination of such a question as the cancellation of their debt.

The annual meeting of the local branch of the St. John Ambulance Association held the other day, shows that the parent society has a strong offshoot here. The speaker, Mr. J. H. Kelly, who has been in the brief space of 17 years spreading itself all over Great Britain, and extended its work into all the divisions of the Empire. Last year it was estimated that 300,000 persons had proved the requirements with regard to the first aid to life, and the satisfaction of the medical examiners connected with the society. The New South Wales branch is of quite recent establishment, but evidently there is a strong pre-recognition of the value of the work. Mr. Kelly, chairman of the executive committee, was able to point out the fact that within the year some 1300 persons had graduated in the classes, while over 2000 members had gone through some instruction. The object of the society is to teach every knowledge cannot be questioned, and the phrase first aid. The ambulance corps of the individual member does not attempt to supplant the doctor, but to render in case of need just that skilled attention which by lessening suffering or loss of blood, or by preventing infection, and by directing the patient to receive the utmost advantage from the surgeon's professional treatment. Few intervals are more painful for the spectators or the injured persons than that between the accident and the arrival of the ambulance. The bystander is full of pitifulness, but he can do nothing. The sufferer, if conscious, is not only tormented by his wound, but by the feeling of helplessness, and in some not uncommon cases the injury, though not so serious, may be made worse by the delay. It is not one of the most serious causes of the handling of the patient leaves much to be desired. Skill is the main thing, and if combined with sympathy so much the better. But the sympathy which dictates that the patient should be moved, and lifted up a man anywhere, thrust him into the first cab and jolt him off to the hospital a mile away, is often but cruel kindness. It is to avert these mischances that the association exists. The need of such knowledge cannot be questioned. In any day, in a large industrial population like ours, brings its cases of accident, serious or slight, but in each instance the chief need is of immediate intelligence and resourcefulness. The organisation which we are considering is in the urgent need of such persons, who these localities and callings where large numbers of persons are gathered in circumstances of constant peril. But the very best of the emergency is that its members are not required at any moment in any situation, and to prepare people to give them is true humanity.

The emergency of which Dr. VANDERLIP Kelly spoke may or may not arise; but the emergency of which most men speak, and which is the one that, therefore, provides for them is the first call upon philanthropy.

So much recognition of the work of the association is its due, and to render it so is pleasure. At the same time it is a reflection on the State, that it should not have an annual meeting. One is the extent to which, judging by the list of awards, the work of the society has fallen into the hands of women, and that those young women. Assuming that some proportion of the members would be some proportion of the members, the membership is composed of young ladies. This is not surprising, seeing how popular with women every branch of nursing

WORKS had the plans which obtained the prize in the competition for the design of the new Asylum on view at the Assembly for the information of members. These plans, it may be mentioned, were prepared for the Kossville site, and are now being revised by Mr. Brown for the Kennora Asylum. The Government is accordingly adopting a composite plan embodying the best features in each of the designs. The Government intend to erect the new Asylum on the site near the Kennora Asylum. It is anticipated that this expenditure will keep pace with the need for increased accommodation for the insane.

MR. O'BRIEN rose to move the Government to increase the salary of night porter. In reply to Mr. Campbell, said the Hon. Alexander Brown, M.L.C., received £300 a year as President of the Municipal Board. Supply and Sewerage Board. He added further that the Government approved of a member of either branch of the Legislature holding such an office. Mr. Reid said the Government would consider the question of the propriety of giving up one position or the other. In reply to an interjection, Mr. Reid added that if Mr. Brown had asked him, Mr. Reid would write to him about it. Mr. Brown, when spoken to by the subject, said, "I have no answer to make until Mr. Reid writes to me, when I will give him a final answer." Mr. Reid then said that on 15 and 17 of the Constitution Act prohibit any member of the Legislative Assembly, except members of the Ministry, from holding an office under the Government. This prohibition extends to members of the Legislative Council.

THE GOVERNMENT VOTE.—Mr. Crie's bill to amend the law relating to the election of electors at times in the Assembly last night, provides that the elected candidate must poll an absolute majority of the votes recorded in the electorate. To carry out this intention, Mr. Reid proposed to alter the intimation of the system of contingent voting. This is effected by permitting the elector, if he thinks fit, to indicate on his ballot paper the number of votes he desires to give, if he does not vote in the first instance, but for whom he desires his vote to be counted in the event of any candidate for whom he votes in the first instance failing to obtain the requisite number of votes. The vote may indicate his preference for candidates by writing the figures 1, 2, 3, &c., opposite the names. If at an election there are two candidates, and the elector votes polled, all the candidates except the two who receive the greatest number of votes are to be deemed defeated candidates. The vote of every elector is to be counted, whether or not he is to be counted for that one (if any) of the remaining two candidates for whom he has indicated that he desires his vote to be counted. The vote so counted for the two remaining candidates are to be added to the votes originally given for them, and the candidate who receives the greatest number of votes, including these contingent votes, is to be declared elected.

DISTRICT COURT AMENDMENT BILL.—Mr. Wilkinson has given notice of his intention to move for leave to bring in a bill to further amend the District Court Act of 1884 in certain particulars, and to increase the limit of jurisdiction in actions cognisable in the District Courts to £500, and to increase the powers of the District Courts, and to increase the facilities for the recovery in the District Courts of debts or liquidated demands in money with or without interest, and to amend the provisions relating to the enforcement of judgments.

SUPPORT OF COUNTRY FIRE BRIGADES.—Mr. A. Campbell has given notice in the Assembly to ask the Colonial Secretary whether the Government will introduce a Bill to provide that where it becomes compulsory upon the fire insurance companies to contribute towards the support of country fire brigades, as well as those within the county of Cornwall.

LOCAL OPTION BILL.—Mr. Fegan has given notice in the Assembly to move,—That, in the opinion of this House, a bill to amend the Licensing Act should be introduced upon the same day as the Local Option Bill.

DISTRESS IN NEWCASTLE.—This afternoon Mr. Watkins intends asking the Minister for Public Works whether he will take into consideration the distress existing in Newcastle, and the want of the Newcastle district with a view of relieving the distress that exists through the closing down of collieries, by which some hundreds of men have been thrown out of work.

ELECTIONS AND QUALIFICATIONS COMMITTEE.—This committee was occupied till a late hour yesterday evening taking evidence in regard to the proposed amendments to the Electoral Law. The committee will meet again this morning to further consider the matter.

DEPUTATIONS TO MINISTERS.—At noon today a deputation from the Rockdale Council is to wait on the Minister for Education. At 2 p.m. they will go to the main Forest road. At 12.30 p.m. Mr. Young will receive a deputation consisting of Mr. B. B. Nicoll and others in regard to improvements in the Forest Road. At 2 p.m. a deputation will wait on the Minister for Education in reference to a school site. To-morrow, at 10.30 a.m., Mr. Thompson will receive a deputation from the Board of the Veterinary Park in regard to the state of the park; and at 11 a.m. on the same day he will be waited on by a deputation from the Institute of Surveyors about various matters affecting surveyors.

CATTLE SLAUGHTERING ACT.—Considerable agitation has been excited, especially in country districts, by the heavy license fees fixed by the Government in connection with the Cattle Slaughtering Act. These regulations impose a fee of £5 for a slaughtering house in the counties of Cumberland and Northumberland, and £10 in the rest of the island. Mr. Stevenson recently brought under the notice of the Board of Health the hardship caused by these regulations, and the Board of Health stating that it is proposed to recommend the Government to amend clause 2 of the 1st schedule of the regulations by exempting the County of Wexford from the payment of the license. Regulations in regard to cattle slaughtering are to be considered by the Colonial Secretary, and it is probable that the result will be favorable to the County of Wexford. Some anomalies not only to municipalities but to the whole colony.

RAILWAY TRICYCLES.—Approval has been given by the Railway Commissioners for fixing a simple rule for the carrying of tricycles on railways. Many men on the railways, which may be the means in some cases of preventing accidents. Accidents, several of them of a fatal character, have occurred owing to the fact that many men, when riding on the tricycles being overtaken by trains, the noise of the tricycle preventing the approach of the train being heard. The Railways Department has decided that the tricycles fitted with a small looking-glass, in which the man working the tricycle may see any train approaching them from behind.

DIRECTIONS FOR THE SEPARATION OF WOODLAND.—The local Government inquiry into the proposed separation of Watson's Bay and the Rose Bay area of Woodlands from the municipality of Mosman is still continuing.

BONNARDY STREET, RANDWICK.—Constant complaint has been made to the Randwick and Waverley municipal councils regarding the alleged dangerous state of Bonnardy Street. The boundary between the two boroughs of Randwick and Waverley, and is an important thoroughfare, leading to some of the most popular resorts for bathing and recreation. It is stated that the road has been considerably cut up by the carriage loads of the large guns to the coast fort at Shark Point, and that the stones used in the construction of the gun batteries it is thought that the Government should contribute to the maintenance of the road. The cost of the re-laying of the road is estimated at £10,000. Two gentlemen concerned, who recently met for that purpose, and it was resolved to bring the matter before the Government. At the meeting of the Council of the Municipality of Mosman, only a signed petition was received, drawing attention to the state of this street from the intersection of St. Thomas-street to Shark Point.

STORM-WATER.—The Municipal Council of Portsea is very anxious to get rid of the nuisance caused by vehicular and pedestrian traffic, as it was full of deep holes. The formation of the road was urged, as the properties in the vicinity were falling in ruin. the work on the Government. The petition was presented by Mr. J. H. Williams, who stated that he had received from the Minister for Works expressing his willingness to receive a deputation on the question.

MARRICORRI COUNCIL.—The Marricorri Council moved, at a meeting of the Marricorri Council last night,—“That a deputation consisting of the whole council, together with the member for the district of Marricorri, be authorised to appear before the Minister upon the advisability and expediency of resuming that portion of land known as True Vale, bounded on the east by lane at back of ‘Bridle-road,’—‘passage’ road, on the west by ‘Bridle-road,’ on the north by Rydenham-road, and measuring in all about 25 acres.” To the effect that the great expense incurred in clearing this place was to the borough, and if the Government would resume it and hand it over to the council to be used for a public park, or for any other public purpose, the members of the Marricorri Council were of opinion that they would do so. The amendment was carried, and Aldermen Oatley will move a further amendment that the words “to be used for a public park” be omitted, and that the words “and dedicate the same to the council or to the trustees for use as a public park” be inserted after the word “purpose.” Alderman Gould seconded the amendment.

The amendment was carried, and Aldermen Oatley will move a further amendment that the words “to be used for a public park” be omitted, and that the words “and dedicate the same to the council or to the trustees for use as a public park” be inserted after the word “purpose.” Alderman Gould seconded the amendment.

THAM FARM TO DULWICH HILL.—Aldermen Oatley moved at a meeting of Marricorri Council last night for delivery of the farm between the Mayor and aldermen of the West Ward. He said early date for the purpose of urging the reduction of the fare from Dulwich Hill to Tham Farm, which has been a big handicap for residents of Dulwich Hill to pay 10d per day in train fare and from bus fares to Tham. Alderman Gill seconded the motion, which was carried unanimously.

CUTBERLAND VINE DISEASE BOARD.—Following is the result of the polling for the new board under the Vine Diseases Act for the Cumberland District, held on September 17th last:

Voters:—William Stimson, 39; Joseph Cox, 245; A. J. Howard, 264; H. Lashan, 18; W. Steane, 183; Beckhaus, 204; W. Donald, 10; H. E. King, 194; J. Filmer, 78; G. Gordon, 84.

ENGINEER MAILED.—The mails, ex Cuzco, dated London, 21st August, will be due to-morrow (Wednesday) morning.

TRY TO THE GOLDMINE.—The looking that is daily taking place in the offices of the steamship companies by those who are hurrying to the gold-fields in the Far West points to a renaissance of the old-time feverishness for wealth. The best-equipped of the intercolonial steamers are again announced to proceed direct and without transhipment. The H.A.S. Company has put up the Hokitika to the Howland Sound route via the Adelaide Company the Ipanamaku, while a few berths are daily secured by the mail steamer Albatross, which calls at the various ports en route. It is developing in described in letters received from Albany, which states that the largest single shipment of passengers yet landed at Fremantle was made by the Albatross, from Warangeroo. There were on board 185 in the steerage, and 320 in the stowage. In addition to these there were 25 passengers bound to Geraldton—about 100 of whom are intended to disembark at Perth. There were 51 packages on board and 20 packages of mining machinery, besides many hundreds of tons of stores. Such a shipment reminds one of the old-time gold-diggers.

DEPARTURE OF THE NEW MARISSARY SHIP.—The London Missionary Society's steamer John Williams having completed coaling and having also taken in all her provisions, is ready to start. The passengers will leave Dalgety's Wharf for the South Seas and New Guinea this afternoon. A short service will be held on board at 11 a.m., and the vessel will sail at 12 noon. The passengers are expected to call at Niue, Barotonga, Samoa, and New Guinea. After visiting New Guinea she will again visit Central Polynesia before returning to Sydney.

LARGEST CONSUMERS OF WATER IN SYDNEY.—A curious return has been prepared by the Works Department at the request of Mr. Haynes. It shows the amount of water consumed by the different trades in the city during the year ending March 31st last. The railways head the list with 153 millions of gallons, consumed in 1891, for which amount was paid. The tramways used 37 million gallons, and the Municipal Council 21½ millions. The largest consumer last year used 48 million gallons, paying £207; Tooth and Co., Limited, during the same period used 18 million gallons, paying £17 million; and I. R. Brown and Co. used 17 million gallons, paying £877. The Australian Gaslight Company used 14 million gallons, paying £728; the North Sydney Ferry Company 12 million gallons, paying £87; the Hotel Australia used 7 million gallons, the Sydney Bus Company 6 million gallons, and the Hotel Metropole 5 million gallons.

PUBLICATION RECEIVED.—We have received the first number of The Commonwealth, the official organ of the Australasian Federation League. It gives a good summary of the progress made since the late Melbourne conference in connection with the movement. Among the articles contained are: “Federation as a National Movement,” by Mr. Andrew Garratt, of the “Federal Standpoint,” by Mr. Frank Cotton; and “Federation from a Legal Standpoint,” by Mr. K. H. Garrahan, A. S.

POOST ACCIDENT.—Whilst a boy was being dragged along Elizabeth-street yesterday afternoon it collided with the kerb, with the result that two occupants, Mr. H. Robson and Mr. E. Dunn, were precipitated into the gutter below. They were unhurt, but sustained considerable bruising, and his home in a serious condition. The other occupant was unharmed.

SHEPHERD FALLS.—A youth named Benbow was admitted into the Sydney Hospital yesterday suffering from a fracture of the right foot and severe shock to the system, accompanied by mild cerebral congestion. The youth is named John Leckie, residing at 37 Day-street, and was also admitted into the institution during the afternoon, suffering from two scalp lacerations extending from the crown of the head to the nape of the neck.

POSTAL PILLAR.—With reference to the notice published in the Herald concerning the manner in which the pillars supporting the roof of the station of the Postal Pillar Company may write to say that the pillars have been looked upon by many conscientious visitors as handsome and original ornaments to the street fronting the station, and that the design is superior to the former pillar.

ACCIDENT AT THE CYRIL WORKS.—Yesterday afternoon named William Pollard, employed in the Hudson Brothers' Works, Cyril, was engaged in painting, when he fell from the top of a building, with the result that his face, arms, and hands were seriously burned. He was attended by Dr. Brown, of Parramatta.

THE WALLERANG CASES.—The Inspector of the Wallerang Cases.—The City Coroner, Mr. J. C. Moore, concluded yesterday the inquiry on the body of the man Henry Kirby, who died in the Sydney Hospital on the 27nd September, and who was the husband of Mrs. Kirby, upon whom an inquest was concluded on Tuesday when the jury returned a verdict of accidental death, and recommended that the coroner should take steps to the effect that death was due to typhoid fever, accelerated by cutting down the temperature of the patient on the 17th and 18th of September, and also upon diagnosed the case as one of typhoid fever. A medical man could have detected the nature of the illness several days before it resulted in death, and the jury recommended that the treatment of Mr. W. B. Turner, at Wallerawang, where the treatment did not hasten death. A verdict of death from natural causes, to wit, typhoid fever, was returned.

A PECULIAR POISONING CASE.—Yesterday morning a woman named Elizabeth Galvin was summoned to St. Vincent's Hospital in regard to a poisoning, commencing on the 17th inst. On Tuesday she was seized, at her residence, No. 13 Ryder-street, Ryde Hills, with convulsions, and was brought to hospital. Here the stomach pump was applied, and the opinion was expressed that he was suffering from arsenical poisoning.

SEIZURE OF COCAINE.—Last night Inspector Donohoe, of the Customs Department, made a smart seizure of 2000 grains in the Douglas Street warehouse of Robert Bragg he was arrested, and charged with possession, and regarding the matter as suspicious, the two officers followed

THE MISSING SYDNEY

Captain Hutton is making all steps possible in the Government steamer "Thetis" to ascertain if possible the whereabouts of the missing schooner Boss Royster. He was off Seal Rocks early yesterday morning having seen nothing of the schooner. He is now en route for Port Macquarie, arriving at about 11 o'clock. The Trio was bound to Port and Captain Hutton signalled asking if the schooner was there. He received a reply from the pilot station deciding the Thetis further to the north. Captain Hutton will make an angular course and if he believes the schooner is on or near the reefs. Very favorable weather yesterday expressed his hope that the schooner would be sighted. Government through the Marine Department despatching the Thetis upon her present mission. The announcement in yesterday's paper that the ship by surprise, it is understood that any steps were about

of having the coast guard whose total disappearance within the
is causing such intense anxiety to the
those on board.

FINANCES OF THE LEICESTER MUNICIPALITY.

INTEREST ON LOAN.

Some statements having been made that the Leicester municipality had been wronged in its loan, Mr.
 was requested yesterday evening
 committee of the Leicester Committee of the press that the borough of
 is in as healthy a financial any borough in the colony into default the bank, and the
 to recall the note in regard to its pay-loan referred to is for £16,000. It was in the London market 10 years ago, a time past negotiations have been in its renewal. The interest on the loan was on Monday, and it was called Saturday, two days before it was due. Further, the rates of the council are not as freely as in any other borough in the county. The municipality is being worked on most principles, and there is not the slightest going into default either in regard to their fall due or in regard to interest. Some difficulty in regard to the renewal of the loan arrangements which the council was the Mutual Provident Society not completed. The council was under the up to a few weeks ago that the Mutual Society would take up the loan, but the society sent an intimation to that the board of the society had to grant the loan. One difficulty in settlement arises from the fact that was first negotiated the present borough board formed the East Ward of Leitchville, and the loan was made to the borough by the loans raised by Leitchville and was between the two boroughs; but the Leitchville borough board remains responsible to the bondholders for the loan, and the Leitchville board the last finance committee of the Council, accompanied by Mr. Hawththorne, the Premier, in reference to the Leitchville making some satisfaction for the renewal of the loan, the proposed Council being that the bondholders should be paid for the loan, and the Council for three months to enable them to make other arrangements to discharge the loan. The course pursued was the calling the Leitchville Council to the Leitchville Council, and the Leitchville Council met last night in Leitchville Town Hall, and telephoned to the Leitchville Council, and the Leitchville Council was surprised at the statement which was made at the financial position of the borough, although the misapprehension the situation was not the Leitchville Council, but to the credit of the borough.
